

The insurance policy for foreign students is as follows.

No.	Reimbursement items	Maximum reimbursement amount (NTD)	Insurance products	Note
1	Outpatient (emergency) medical claim	1,000	遨遊世代門急診限額 Medical insurance-outpatient/ emergency medical claims up to the maximum amount	Medical claims will be covered on a reimbursement basis and up to the maximum amount
2	Hospitalization claims- daily ward charge	1,000	遨遊世代	Medical claims will be covered on a reimbursement basis and up to the maximum amount
3	Hospitalization claim-medical service fee	120,000		Medical claims will be covered on a reimbursement basis and up to the maximum amount

Outpatient (emergency) medical claims

If the insured, within the valid period of this contract (if the insured is added after the contract took effect, then the starting point of the period is the day after the additional insurance takes effect), went to a hospital or clinic for outpatient (emergency) medical services due to diseases or injuries, the company would reimburse the expenses of “outpatient (emergency) medical claims” based on the actual fees (including diagnosis, prescription, medicine, test or X-ray examination and so on) charged by the hospital or clinic . However, the maximum amount reimbursed per claim is NT$1000.

Hospitalization claims- daily ward charge

If the insured, within the valid period of this contract (if the insured is added after the contract took effect, then the starting point of the period is the day after the additional insurance takes effect), was hospitalized due to diseases or injuries, the company would reimburse the following expenses incurred during the hospitalization period as “hospitalization claims- daily ward charge.” However, the maximum amount reimbursed per day is NT$1000.

1. The charge incurred by upgrading the ward.
2. The charge of food other than those which are to be tube fed.
3. The charge of nurses other than specially registered nurses.

Hospitalization claim- medical service fee

If the insured, within the valid period of this contract (if the insured is added after the contract took effect, then the starting point of the period is the day after the additional insurance takes effect), was hospitalized due to diseases or injuries, the company would reimburse the following expenses incurred during the hospitalization period as “hospitalization claim- medical service fee.” However, the maximum amount reimbursed per hospitalization is NT$120,000.

1. Medicines designated by doctors.
2. Blood (blood transfusion not for emergent injury or illness).
3. Registration fee and certificate of registration.
4. Ambulance services to and from hospitals.
5. Surgical fees.
6. Operating room, postoperative intensive care unit and emergency room and employment of facilities therein.
7. Material fees.
8. Analysis done in assay laboratory, electrocardiogram (ECG), and checking of basal metabolic rate (BMR).
9. Rehabilitative treatments.
10. Anesthetics, oxygen and their employment.
11. Radiation therapy fees.
12. Hemodialysis fee.
13. Liquid medicines and technical fee of their injection.
14. Test fees.
15. Treatment fees.